

The members of the Graham family, in Charleston, who were poisoned last week are now considered out of danger.

The Presbyterian Synod, which met in Columbia last week, was very well attended, and was an occasion of much interest. Many matters pertaining to the interest of the denomination were considered. The meeting was very harmonious.

Senator Corwin, of Newberry, has resigned his seat as a State Senator, and this makes one more on the list of ex-members, and will give the Democrats more than two-thirds in that body this fall, if they elect men in all the vacancies. It is thought they can do this.

A bill has been introduced in the United States Senate providing for the coinage of silver dollars, and will no doubt pass to a law, as it is evident that the people of the whole nation, by a large majority, are highly in favor of the restoration of the dollar of our fathers. Justice and the wants of the country alike demand it.

A bill has been introduced in Congress to repeal the Bankrupt act, and it is considered highly probable that it will pass. The law was enacted for the benefit of the country, but its operation has proved disastrous in many instances, and the people of all sections of the government are clamoring for its repeal. It will not if adopted affect cases already instituted.

President Hayes is said to be contemplating a re-organization of the Republican party in South Carolina, and thinks that such men as ex-congressman Blanton Corley could again lead the shattered ranks of Republicanism to victory in the Palmetto State. In this, however, he is vastly mistaken. The Democrats have come in to stay, and Republican rule down here is a thing of the past.

The health of Pope Pius the IX has been very feeble for some time past, and his death is likely to occur at any moment. He is very old, and is suffering from a complication of diseases, which will certainly terminate his life soon. It is thought by his physicians. In the event of his death it is said that his successor will be selected and inducted into office as soon as possible, to prevent any estrangement among those who may be presented for the succession.

Fifteen States vote for officers next month, and the following may be taken as a correct view of the political situation in them: Democratic—New York, Louisiana, Mississippi, New Jersey, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia. Republican—Maine, Nebraska and Nevada. Doubtful—Pennsylvania, Massachusetts, Wisconsin and Illinois. All of these States vote on the 6th of November, and in addition to them Georgia votes on the 5th of December, and may be added to the list of certain Democratic States.

President Hayes has nominated Hon. John L. Harlan, of Kentucky, for the Supreme Court. Judge Harlan was elected by the Senate from Illinois. Mr. Harlan is the law partner of ex-Secretary Bristol and is said to be a lawyer of good ability, though he has been comparatively unknown. He is a Republican, but is a vast improvement on the material from which Grant selected his Judges. The action of Mr. Hayes in selecting a man from Kentucky, instead of one of the Southern States, is a disappointment to many Southern politicians, and shows that the President is not ready to take so decided a step in the direction of restoring the South to its full share of the higher offices of the government.

The Episcopal Triennial General Convention has adjourned after a long and interesting session in Boston, at which the leading subjects of interest to the church were discussed. The action of the convention was more negative in its results than positive. Many changes, more or less radical in their nature, were proposed, and nearly all of them were rejected. The body recommends more work among the colored people of the South; it provided for an order of deacons in the churches—expressed condemnation of theatrical performances or other secular modes of raising money for church purposes, and adopted other commendations and rules, but in all substantial matters it declined to make any changes.

Mexico seems to be in a chronic state closely resembling anarchy. The Diaz Government professes to rule the country, but its orders are not obeyed, as was clearly shown by the course pursued by the people at Matamoros last week. More soldiers had been despatched to the people of Texas, and were arrested by the Mexican Government and ordered to be delivered to the State authorities of Texas, but the Matamoros mob released them from the hands of the troops of the government did not dare interfere. The Governor of Texas is raising a force to protect the frontier of his State, and unless the Mexicans pursue a different course in the future, our Government may feel called on to protect its frontier, even at the cost of a war with this insolvent people. If this is the case, then the United States may undertake the task of governing them.

The Turkish war has assumed another interesting phase. Last week a great battle was fought in Armenia between the Russians and the Turks in a series of attacks completely routed the army of Mutsafer Pasha, and almost destroyed it as a fighting force. The army was cut in two and put to flight in every direction, a portion of it surrendering with several thousand men, and the remainder a large quantity of material of war and provisions. This is the most important victory the Russians have won since the beginning of the war, and reverses the fortunes of the Turkish army in Asia Minor.

THE COUNTY FAIR.

The Anderson County Fair is ten years old, and from the first has been made up to this time promises to be as good as usual, which is saying a great deal for the exhibition, as former displays have given this County the reputation of having the greatest interest and the most creditable exhibitions at its annual fairs. In some departments the number of entries exceed those of last year considerably, and it is thought all of them will be as good as before. To-day and to-morrow are to be the big days, and a very large attendance is expected at both times. Special trains will be run from Bolton, and probably from Wall-halla, on each day, at a reduced rate of fare.

The right of Messrs. Spofford and Rustle, Democratic Senators elect from Louisiana to seats in the United States Senate, has been referred to the Committee on Privileges and Elections, and hence the State of Louisiana will be without representation in that body until the committee reports, which will in all probability be a long time. The vote of reference was a strict party vote, and stood Republicans 38, in favor of reference, and Democrats 33 opposed. Judge David Davis, of Illinois, voted with the Democrats. It is probable that the case of Senator Butler from this State will take the same course, and thus the Senate will, for a time at least, be held Republican by excluding Democrats who are entitled to seats in that body. This shows that the Republican party leaders do not desire pacification of the country, but prefer to keep open, if possible, the differences between the North and South. They would not dare to exclude Senators elected from Northern and Western States, but they with impunity debate Southern men of their seats for the patent purpose of retaining by fraud the reins of government which the suffrages of the people has taken away from them. This inquiry will, however, have to come to a close, and Messrs. Spofford and Matthews will have to step down and out to make room for better men. Mr. Patterson will be taken care of in the mansion on the Congress, and a Democratic Senator will come in from California. We can therefore afford to wait, for our deliverance is at hand, and these infamous acts on the part of Republicans will only render the destruction of their party the more overwhelming and lasting.

The chapter of political wrongs and frauds is about written, and the country is rapidly returning to the moorings of our forefathers.

The situation in France is still critical, although the Republicans gained such a magnificent victory at the polls some two weeks ago. The McMahon government is determined to retain power at all hazards, and contrary to the precedents of our past, they persist in retaining their places, although an overwhelming majority of the citizens of France have unmistakably condemned their policy, and that, too, in the face of persecutions and tyrannical unheard of in a free country. Republican leaders were imprisoned, and the government of McMahon, in the name of the Republic, menaced the liberties of France in a manner that the Emperor of Louis Napoleon would not have dared to do. McMahon's term will be brief, and if in the meantime he can secure the Senate, there is very little prospect that he will ever give up the Presidency, unless it is to mount the throne of a monarchy. France is, therefore, in a dangerous situation, and her young Republic is threatened with death at the hands of its second President. The election on November will decide the problem of the French Republic.

The action of the Democratic House of Representatives in seating Cain and Rainey from this State instead of referring their credentials to the Committee on Privileges and Elections was cringing and weak. It was not in accordance with usage and was as much of an extreme leniency on the part of the House as the reference of Rustle and Spofford's credentials was a tyranny on the part of the Senate. The latter presented the only credentials and the only claimants under the elections held and of course have a prima facie right to their seats, but Cain and Rainey hold certificates of election from Hayes as Secretary of State and O'Connor and Richardson hold certificates of election to the same places from Col. Sims as Secretary of State, and hence the House should have referred the matter to the committee to examine and report which the Democrats who voted to seat the men who were not fairly elected, did so from craven political cowardice, and we are glad to see that Messrs. Allen and Ryals of this State with characteristic good sense and independence voted for the reference. It presents a pitiable sign of weakness to see Democrats in the House voting with the Republicans because they are afraid to meet the Southern question squarely and aid too, while the Republicans of the Senate were boldly and defiantly laying down the gauntlet of battle even this very day.

While Patterson is seeking to keep away from South Carolina through the aid of the Courts, it is probable the Senate will seek to get rid of his presence by an investigation of the manner in which he obtained his election. It would be a disgrace to the Senate if the man who was elected by fraud should remain in the United States to retain a member who is notorious for having bought his election. The mere fact that he resists a trial is proof enough to honest men that he is guilty, for if an innocent man is charged with crime he does not seek to avoid a trial, but rather courts an investigation as the surest means of vindicating his honor and innocence before the world.

Patterson's DEFEAT.—The points raised upon by Senator Patterson in the habeas corpus case in Washington are as follows: 1st, that the applicant was not a legal grand jury, and no duly elected judge; 2d, that Chief Justice Willard, who presided at the trial, was not the legal Chief Justice; 3d, that the General Assembly which appointed the committee of investigation was not a legal body; 4th, that the committee of investigation was not a legal body; 5th, that the committee of investigation was not a legal body;
